According to the Turks, mine sweepers have been busy at the entrance of drawal movement. The western forts of Grodno were evacuated after two of them were de-stroyed by the heavy guns and stormed stroyed by the heavy guns and stormed by the German infantry and it is considered extremely likely that the whole fortress has already been left to its fate, for it was no longer tenable after the Germans had crossed the Grodno-Vilna railway, which they did at two points, and had penetrated the oFrest of Bieloviezh, southeast of the town.

Vilna, doubtless, will be the next objective of the Austro-Germans on this front. In the southeast, Vienna also front. In the southeast, Vienna also reports a series of successes which have virtually driven the Russians out of Galicia. They now hold only a very narrow strip between the Sereth river and Bessarabia. Across the border in the latter province, the Austrians state, the Russians set fire to a num-ber of villages, which might indicate a further retreat. Thus the hopes raised in the allied countries by recent successes, that Russia at least was making a stand, have been dissipated. Everywhere the Austro-Germans claim to be advancing, but they have not recently captured any great number of men or guns. The Russian guns have been kept well behind the infantry and are quickly moved back when the rear guards are unable longer to hold off the invaders. There is some talk of an advance on Kiev, but the distance to that city is considerable and the country over which it would have to be made is difficult for the movement of troops. Everywhere the Austro-Germans would have to be made is difficult for the movement of troops.
